OUR PATH FORWARD IS CLEAR.

THE NETHERLANDS CAN COUNT ON US!

PROTECTING VULNERABLE LIFE

We have the duty to take care of those who are vulnerable. That is why the SGP is committed to protecting unborn life, the elderly, and everyone who needs care or (mental) support.

- Great care for mother and child, including support for unintended pregnant women and their (unborn) babies, eliminating personal contributions for necessary maternity care;
- Investing in palliative care and a structured approach to combat loneliness;
- Support (young) people who are struggling with mental health issues. Euthanasia is never a solution and must always remain prohibited, especially in these cases.

STRONG FAMILY VALUES

A strong society begins with a stable family and a safe home environment. The SGP pursues a positive and encouraging family policy. We are committed to traditional marriage between one man and one woman, family values, and advocate for financial stability in every household.

- Strengthening the financial position of families, paying attention to single-income families and stopping discriminating tax-regulations that often force both parents to work;
- Relationship and family therapy included in the basic health insurance package;
- Introduce a legal right to paid bereavement leave when people lose a loved one.

FOR A SAFE SOCIETY

Society can only flourish if safety is guaranteed. Our law enforcement must maintain a strong and visible presence in our communities. We need to make necessary investments for our safety to get our defense back on track. Protecting fundamental freedoms such as the freedom of education is crucial.

- Every village or neighborhood deserves a permanent community police officer;
- Investing in defense and meeting NATO standards;
- Safety on the streets, especially for Dutch Jews who feel increasingly threatened or unsafe due to rising antisemitism.

Many people are worried. Where is our country headed? How do we treat each other? Who or what can I trust? Where can I find peace, direction, and stability in a time of uncertainty? We need a foundation stronger than public opinion and the fad of the day. In today's self-centered society, we are increasingly standing up against each other instead of alongside each other. This is also true in politics. Many young people struggle with mental health issues. In short: harsh words hit the loneliest hearts.

OUR RELIABLE COMPASS

Many Dutch people feel alienated by the woke and cancel culture, gender ideology, and excessive demonstrations. The SGP wants to return to our Christian roots. The Ten Commandments of our Creator offer a reliable and timeless compass. This means that we look up to heaven, take care of each other, and commit ourselves to justice and peace.

In our confused society, the SGP wants to make a difference. Not by going with the flow, but by staying on course. The Netherlands will benefit from a clear Christian voice. Especially now!

A RECOGNIZABLE SGP

We focus on three key priorities: protecting vulnerable life, strong family values, and a safe society. Together, these values form the foundation for a better Netherlands.

But there's more to say. The SGP is dedicated to ensuring quality education and suitable housing for all. We extend a warm welcome to refugees fleeing for war and persecution, while also setting clear boundaries on the sharp rise in migration. The SGP is committed to caring for God's creation and recognizes the importance of food security. That means supporting our farmers and fishermen. We believe in working together with other EU-countries, but Brussels doesn't need to take the reins. We oppose further transfers of power from the Netherlands to the European Union. We stand with the everyday Dutch citizen and with entrepreneurs who are the backbone of our economy.
